

J-TORYU-001-PCT

ABSTRACT

A right management server (2) includes a music data holding unit (11) for holding right information including right holder names of a copyright, a right of performer and a master disk right regarding music or right managers, and use conditions of music, a registration module (10b) for registering the music right information and the use conditions in the music data holding unit, an input screen presentation module (10c) for presenting an input screen to write a music name desired to be used to a terminal of a music user side, a retrieval module (10d) for retrieving the music held in the music data holding unit based on a music name transmitted from the terminal of the music user side, a condition presentation module (10e) for presenting use conditions of the music retrieved by the retrieval module to the terminal of the music user side, and a music distribution module (10g) for distributing music to the terminal of the music user side. According to this right management server (2), it is possible to easily obtain use permission of the three rights of the copyright, the right of performer, and the master disk right regarding the music.